Has All the Foundation for a Good Financial System, But

Some Suggestions as to How the Pres ent Stringency in the Money Market May be Relieved-Present Conditions Embarrassing to Enlarged Industrial and Commercial Operations.

Philadelphia Times: The strained conditions under which the country is now suffering are the logical result of our patchwork, and that is liable at any time when we have enlarged industrial and commercial operations, to become a severe restraint upon business pro-gress. In no period in the history of the nation has money been so widely diffused in new industrial and business operations as during the last eighteen months, and the result is that money day in the most legitimate business channels readily commands 6 per cent, while call loans, largely for stock or other speculative operations, often command as much as 30 per cent. These conditions are very hurtful to the business advancement of the country, and they should be promptly and thoroughly remedied. There should be no wild inflation or any financial system that would invite such a ruin policy, but we are now nearly $0,000,000 of people with a sudden industrial and trade development unexampled in the history of the world.

This wrong to the business interests is partly the fault of our financial laws, but it is also largely the fault of our national banks. They do not seem to understand that they are upon trial before the people of the country, and that they are vehemently assailed by a great party organization. Did possess the ordinary sagacity in dealing with public sentiment and public ques tions that they possess in dealing with their millions behind the counter, they ould not permit themselves to be assailed for withholding greatly needed currency from the nation. National banks could to-day increase the currency of the country by several hundreds of millions, and it is their duty to do it. True, it would be to their dis-advantage, but they are furnishing the political enemies of our exceptionally good banking system with arguments which can be used sgainst them before the people.

Our national banks should meet the present emergency by the issue of the full volume of currency they are au-thorized to issue under the law. True, it has not been profitable in the past. and it might possibly diminish their profits for some period in the future, but they owe it to themselves and to the safety of our banking system, as well as to the public generally, to meet this smergency by furnishing the largest asure of relief within their power. Many of them have not a single bank note in circulation, and only the very small banks of villages, as a rule, have issued the full amount to which they Let the banks soberly consider what they owe to the business community, and also what they owe to the safety of our excellent bankng system that is certainly seriously threatened.

The national government should first of all authorize the banks to issue currency to the full face value of the government bonds they deposit as security, and there should be some meas ure devised, consistent, with absolute safety to the currency of the country, by which an extreme emergency could e met by an enlarged issue. In addition to this the money of the govern-ment, where now several hundreds of millions are locked up and absolutely withdrawn from business circles, should be always available to business interests. With the national depositorgovernment, there is no reason why evshould not be deposited in the chosen banks for diffusion among the people. We have the foundation of a very sound financial system, but it needs present monetary strain can be speedlly relieved within the lines of sound, conservative financial plans, and it should be done promptly.

Silver certificates 58%@59%c. Bar silver 58%. Mexican dollars 47%c. Government bonds firmer. State bonds inactive. Railroad bonds strong.

The stock market had to absorb a very large volume of selling to take profits on yesterday's rise during the profits on yesterday's rise during the early hours of to-day's trading. The tone of the market for the rest of the day was rather flat and dispirited in spite of aggressive strength by a few prominent stocks and notable advances by a number of rather obscure stocks. The profit taking was especially noticeable in Southern Pacific and Union Pacific and held those stocks under yesterday's price for the greater part of the day. The buying in both of them was nevertheless on a very large scale, blocks of 1,000 shares and upwards of Union Pacific making their appearance frequently in the record. The most conspicuous movement of the day was in the Baltimore & Ohio stocks, the preferred leading. Its extreme advance was 2% per cent, the closing being nearly at the top. The common stock added 1% per cent to its price for the day. The various metal stocks had a period of strength. The grangers were conspicuous in the late movement, led by Burlington, which rallied an extreme 1% per cent. Isolated movements of importance were advances in the lost 3½ per cent. The hesitating tone of the market was due to a recurrent anxiety over the above to a recurrent anxiety over the showing to be made by to-morrow's bank statement. This was accentuated by a late stiffening of the call loan rate to 9 per cent on a de-mand from belated borrowers to carry over until Monday. The earlier rate had been 6 per cent and fell as low as 5 per cent. The sub-treasury to-day paid out about $2,000,000 for bonds offered for redemption and the sub-treasury's debit balance at the clearing house reflected its payments for the same pur-pose yesterday, the amount being $3,-351,649. But these additions to current supplies, coming late in the week, will have a diminished effect on the cash showing of the banks, owing to the system of averages. The net result of sub-treasury operations other than these is small. The interior money movement by express and by sub-treasury transfers has resulted in a cash net loss to the banks of over $1,000,000. The heavy loan contraction of the latter part of last week, however, will be partly re-week by the banks with the inflow of funds. Tet net result upon surplus re-serves is thus very difficult to estimate.

That's the way the Columbia Bevel-Gear Chainless Bicycle moves. From pedal to driving wheel there is no interruption in the transmission of power. The operation of the machine is positive. Each part of the driving mechanism is fixed in its place, all parts move together and there is no back-lash, no straining, wear or loss of power in bringing the different parts consecutively into action. The rider expends no strength without compensation. Every ounce of muscular force exerted is utilized in the propulsion of the machine. Price $60 to $75.

CHAIN WHEELS.

Columbias and Hartfords are the most popular chain bicycles because they contain more desirable features than can be found in other machines of their kind. Special cutting of the sprockets, preventing loss of power through sliding of the chain; narrow tread; narrow rear forks and hubs; dropped crank hanger; flush joints, which are stronger than the body of any tube adapted to cycle construction; and bearings brought to the highest degree of perfection through generation in machines designed and built for our exclusive use, are evidence of their superiority. Price $35 to $50.

Vedette Bicycles are strong and reliable. Price $25 and $26.
